DECISION TO TELL IF FRUIT PACKERS UNDER LABOR ACT

Local Case and Entire Citrus Policy Will Be Decided Soon

Officials and members of citrus associations are awaiting with interest a ruling to determine if citrus packers come under the jurisdiction of the Wagner labor act and the National Labor Relations board.

Various associations, including the Upland Citrus association, have been cited as having adopted "unfair practices" in dealing with employes who are members of a union. The local association officials have been notified of the charges being filed with Dr. Towne Nylander, labor board official in Los Angeles.

Dr. Nylander has admitted that field workers do not come under jurisdiction of the board and he said it would be two or three weeks before he could "decide whether a formal hearing will be called to determine packing house labor jurisdiction."

While local leaders in the citrus industry have adopted a neutral policy relative to unionization of employes, it has been their belief that agricultural workers are not affected by the Wagner labor act.

For that reason, much interest is being shown in the decision that is expected from the labor board officials.

Welcoming an early test of this jurisdiction, the entire citrus industry through its labor committee is ready to carry the claim of exemption to the Supreme court if necessary.

Springer, Former Councilmen, "Looks In" on Officials

William Springer came to the Upland city council meeting last night.

It is customary for Mayor D. J. Cameron to recognize each visitor and ask:

"Something you wanted "

To this question, the veteran Uplander replied:

"No, just getting acquainted again and seeing how you do it now. I want to pay a special greeting to Art Johnson and Ernie Meh'. You know, they were sitting around this council table when I was on the board."

Judge D. J. Burlingame was also an interested visitor at the meeting.

Tom Craig Aids in Recovering Bodies Of Boy and Father

Tom Craig, son of Mrs. W. H. Craig, Sr., was one of the two men who recovered the bodies of a father and small son who were drowned in the ocean surf at Elk, Mendocino county, according to a story carried in the press dispatches this morning. Andrew Gibson of Berkeley attempted to rescue his small son and both lost their lives. Young Craig, listed in the dispatch as Thomas Craig, Glendale artist, and Leslie Collins recovered the bodies and for an hour attempted to revive the victims by artificial respiration.

Dr. Aita Named on Hospital Committee

Dr. A. A. Aita, superintendent of the San Antonio Community hospital, was advised today that he has been appointed a member of the committee on education and exhibits by the Association of California hospitals.

This appointment places him on the group that will plan exhibits at fairs and conventions, prepare radio program and direct hospital publicity.

Opening of West A Street Delayed for Further City Study

Further study will be given by the city council to the details in opening up of A street to a point about 300 feet west of Euclid avenue.

Request for opening the street was recently made by the Upland Heights Orange association and the San Antonio Water Co.

New Flood Dam to Check Storm Water Crossing on Foothill

Flood waters that have formerly churned down Vineyard avenue and other avenues in the Cucamonga district will be checked on completion of a 23-foot high dam.

Work on the project has been started by members of the CCC camp on Arrow highway. It is scheduled to be completed late this fall. The project is located between Vineyard and Carnelian avenues about one mile north of Foothill boulevard.

The dam will be large enough to hold the storm waters that usually run to waste down the avenues in that district. With the water stored, it will then be allowed to slowly run out of the dam on to the Cucamonga wash and sink into the underground basin.

Two drag lines are being used in pulling the soil out of the dam site in forming the 23-foot high wall that will be the south wall of the reservoir.

This construction is part of the CCC program in soil conservation work in the district. Later on additional projects will be started including planting of wind break trees throughout the district.

CHAFFEY MAY NOT ADD STAFF DOCTOR

New Health Work Unlikely to Be Started During New School Year

That the Chaffey board of education may not engage a school doctor was revealed this week when the new school budget was adopted. Sum of $2000 has been included in the proposed outlay as a salary for a doctor.

N. E. Trautman, president of the board, said that due to the fact that it seems difficult to secure a good physician for this salary and also because of the fact that the board is not certain of the demand for this service from the public, it is quite possible that this health work may not be added to the school this year.

Several months ago the officials began to consider advisability of employing a doctor to direct the student health program and also to be available for handling emergency cases on the campus. The present attitude of the board members indicates that this addition to the faculty may be postponed.

Black Scale Fight Should Be Started Immediately, Word

"It is important this year, especially in the double-brooded areas of black scale, that every effort be made to do the greatest possible amount of scale treatment during August," says R. S. Woglum, California Fruit Growers Exchange entomologist, in a report issued this week to Sunkist associations.

"Although black scale hatch was late in starting, because of the backward spring weather, the humid summer weather and succulent growth has caused a very rapid development of scale, with very little natural mortality. Unless there is extended and prompt control efforts, the pest s likely to soon get out of condition for effective results," the report states.

"Fumigation in all black scale areas should be started immediately, or as soon as the young oranges will stand a 16cc dosage in coastal areas and 18cc dosage in interior districts. Work should not be delayed on account of hatch, as the few remaining eggs are more easily killed by fumigation than well advanced scale later."

Fall in Storm Drain Fatal to Cucamongan

Anastacio Isaac, 40-year-old Cucamonga Mexican, died yesterday from injuries he suffered in a fall into the storm drain at Turner avenue and Eighth street, Cucamonga.

His unconscious body was found early Monday morning by two Cucamonga youths, who notified police. Isaac was taken to the county hospital, where he died.

The man's skull had been injured and he suffered bruises about his shoulders and arms.

NEW CITY BUDGET TOTAL HIGHER AS COUNCILMEN ACT

$83,357 Will Be Spent in General Governmental Activities

Cost of operation of the general government in the city of Upland from July 1, 1937, to June 30, 1938, will be $83,357.25 as compared with $75,586.82 for the corresponding 12 months of 1936-37.

The city council approved the budget total at last night's meeting. In addition to this general government costs will be $15,000 extra for the city's share of WPA projects. The city will also spend $6,520 on street improvements but this money will come from outside sources. The grand total for the budget is $104,877.25.

Property owners will pay $56,735 toward meeting the city's annual outlay. Income from other sources will provide the amount needed over the $56,735.

While the city tax rate cannot be officially set until after the assessed valuation figure is known, it is estimated the new rate will be $1.15 per $100 assessed valuation. This is the same rate as for 1936-37.

Adjustments were made in the salaries of eight employes. The hourly rate for laborers was advanced from 40 cents per hour to 45 cents. In general the employes getting "lower bracket" wages were affected by the increase. None of the department heads were given salary changes. Increased operating costs and higher cost of materials were the major factors in the higher budget.

Cost of the various departments for the 12 months are shown in the following summary:

General government, $9,485.50; police, $17,260; fire, $11,455; building, $675; insurance, $1,100; health, $1,250; sanitation, $5,830; highway, $15,270; charities, $550; miscellaneous, $2,765; library, $7,400; park, $5,405; bonds and interest, $4,911.25, and water bond principal and interest, $6,939.

The amount of $15,000 for WPA projects will be used largely in a water conservation and flood control project.

Two Fined $125 in Intoxication Cases

After crashing into two parked automobiles, O. W. Bell, Pomona, hurried out of his own car. Before he got far, however, police arrested him on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $100 in Judge Fred Jacobs court.

20-30 CLUBS WILL NAME HEAD TONIGHT

Local Man Is Candidate for Sub-District Office in Organization

Election of a 20-30 sub-district governor will occur tonight when the sub-district council, composed of representatives from each club, meets in the Upland inn for a dinner and business session.

Sponsored by the clubs in the eastern part of the sub-district, Vernon Shiflett of Upland, a past-president of the local club, is being strongly backed for the office. So far as is known, there is one other candidate, a member of the Azusa club.

Upland club will be represented at the meeting tonight by Harry McKinney and Ward Mahan.

Regular meeting of Upland club was held Tuesday evening in the Upland inn with the president, Virgil Rogers, presiding.

Business matters occupied the attention of the members and a number of committee reports were made. Plans for future events also were discussed.

The club received and accepted with regret the resignation of Harry Gallaugher, past-president of the club and a valued member of the organization. Mr. Gallaugher will leave Sunday for Hollywood where he will enter the employ of the Union Oil Co. His family will join him there when he is settled.

Bert Francis of Ontario attended the meeting as a visitor.

Boys Speak in Today's Very Brief Interviews

Attention is turned today to the future Upland leaders. Youths of elementary grade school age were interviewed relative to their activities, their thoughts and their views on a wide range of subjects.

John Gibbs son of Mrs. A. G. Gibbs, 551 Third avenue, probably has about the darkest back in town.

"Sure, it's too hot to wear a shirt," he said. "I have been going around like this most of the time since school let out." And as he said that he turned his head as far around as possible to emphasize the deep brown tinge on his shoulders and back.

Harold Hall mows about 15 lawns every week in addition to selling magazines. The son of Herbert Hall, this ambitious youth is known for his initiative and ability.

"We mow several every day," he explained. "I just built up the business and now I have about all the work I can do."

Billy Roberts doesn't know for sure his parents' initials but he believes they are "N. J." He was advised that is correct.

"I just call her 'mother' and I never have thought much about what her name is or what my dad's initials are," he said.

He is quite a bicycle rider. "It's not dangerous riding bikes if you really know how. I was hit once but my brakes are good and I know how to use them, so I am not in trouble very often."

Jack Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Christensen, has an ambition of being a member of the 1940 Olympic team. He is practicing for the 50-meter swimming race. While he is only 12, "I work at it every chance I get," he said.

Eddie Robertson has a job on Saturdays at a local meat market.

"The rest of the time I don't do anything special but just ride around on my bike," he said. "We usually ride, oh, I guess about 10 miles every day.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Robertson, 1445 East Ninth street.

Jimmie Paulin likes to hike.

"I guess about the farthest I ever hiked is 10 miles," he said. "That was a long time ago. I was only a little kid then and my dad and I went up Cucamonga peak. He had to tie a rope around me and pull me along, I think." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Paulin.

Donald Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rogers, is another young fellow who likes to hike.

"Up at the Boy Scout camp we went 14 miles one day and I had to carry my 20-pound bedding besides," he said. "We stayed over night and then climbed up Grayback. We slid down the side on the snow. That was a lot of fun."

Keith Gingerich, another Scouter at the recent outing in Camp Tulakes, likes handicraft better than any other scouting activity.

"In that we make a lot of things out of leather and other materials," he explained.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gingerich.

EARLY START ON NINTH EXPECTED

Bids Opened for Materials in Improvement of Many Local Arteries

An early start in the resurfacing of East Ninth street is seen in the opening of bids by the city council last night for rock and gravel and also for pipe. These materials will be used by the city in connection with its various WPA projects.

Ninth street, however, is just one of several arteries to be made smoother. In all cases where the streets have not been paved, the WPA projects call for their improvement.

Property owners on Pine street and the northern end of Fifth avenue petitioned the council last night for pavement. A letter will be sent to the petitioners pointing out that their thoroughfares are included in the city's WPA street improvement program.

Estimates for the gravel and the pipes were referred to City Manager Richard G. Manley.

Ontario Woman to Get $8,000 in Will

Mrs. Emma Fernald of Ontario is named in a will to receive $8,000 from the estate of Oscar A. Strobel, retired picture frame manufacturer, who died July 29.

Press dispatches from Cincinnati, Ohio, told of the bequeath. The estate was valued at $300,000 and the Ontario woman was listed as among those getting $8,000.

PROPERTY OWNERS OPPOSE DOG POUND

City Council Refers Matter to Attorney For Study As Petitions Filed

Protests against maintenance of a dog pound on the eastern end of Seventh street were voiced by a delegation of Seventh street residents at the city council meeting last night.

The situation was referred to City Attorney Edward E. Gray, who will make a close study of the matter. W. J. Brimble was spokesman for the group. Nearly a dozen interested persons were in attendance.

Paul F. Canaday, dog catcher, who recently purchased the property and has established the pound, was also present and emphasized that the impounded dogs do not make enough noise to disturb the neighborhood.

The assembled property owners, however, verbally objected to his statement.

There is no zone law prohibiting maintenance of a dog pound at that location and it is unofficially reported that the council has no voice in the matter. Mr. Canaday has given the police department the assurance that his property is thoroughly cleaned regularly.

In the petition presented by Mr. Brimble it was alleged that the pound is a "common nuisance."

City officials realize the attitude of the property owners and the councilmen indicated they will aid a fair decision on the controversial matter.

Flowers For the Living

P. H. McQuillen's Interest in Community Is Recognized in Tribute Today

To P. H. McQuillen, self-styled Mac, the Medicine Man, go the written and floral bouquets today, the tribute being made by the Upland News and the Armstrong Flower shop with the knowledge that Mac's fellow townsmen will heartily approve.

A citizen of Upland for many years, Mr. McQuillen always has been a leader in civic affairs. He has served the city as mayor and councilman. He has been active in chamber of commerce work, in service club projects and school affairs. For years the Boy Scouts and their officials have known the benefit of his interest and good common sense counsel.

Believing a man can get out of a town no more than he puts into it, Mac has given, in full measure, more in progressive leadership, civic pride and enthusiasm, and in actual hard work, than he expects ever to take out.

And in addition to all the things he has given and done, Mac, himself, is an asset to the city, his steadfast adherence to a high standard of principles being an excellent example of good citizenship, and his friendliness, his uniquely expressed philosophy and his Irish humor adding spice to the village atmosphere.

So here are the word posies for Mac, the Medicine Man and the flowers that bloom in the good old summer time will arrive from Armstrong's Flower shop this afternoon.

SEASONABLE WORK PROPOSED AS AID FOR UNEMPLOYED

Relief Situation Concerning Transients Talked at Conference

Work in harvest seasons and then work on federal projects in the "off" seasons is the aim of a movement today in behalf of California's migratory population.

C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, attended a conference in Bakersfield at which 10 counties were represented when the transient labor situation was discussed.

The State Relief administration was asked to make a survey to determine the normal seasonal labor needs in harvest fields. Employers will be canvassed by the state chamber of commerce to determine peak seasonal employment figures.

Federal conservation works in valley watersheds to employ farm and orchard hands between harvests is one of the major points in the program.

Mr. Grier is quoted as saying that the plan "is not a program to take care of an unlimited number of transients or non-citizens and is not a relief program. The aim is to stabilize California workers with the assistance of the employers."

Herbert C. Legg, Los Angeles supervisor, who called the conference, reported he had been in conference with federal representatives who said they were favorable toward development of such a program, which must be started by the state.

CURB ON BEGGARS BY PEOPLE URGED

Police Ask for Cooperation in Reporting Itinerants When Calls Made

Increase in the number of beggars on Upland streets and at Upland homes is anticipated by local police, who today asked the cooperation of all citizens in keeping the transients out of town and from causing disturbances.

Two reports of unruly beggars at the doors of local homes were received last night and this morning by the police.

Los Angeles county authorities are breaking up "jungles," which is the term for hideouts for "hobos." This practice is tending to drive out the transients from that area. Many of them are likely to come to Upland and there is always an influx of itinerant men in the fall of the year.

"We will appreciate the cooperation of people in this district," Chief of Police Ernest Mehl said. "We suggest that very little consideration be given them. If they get food and other things, they will tend to remain in the vicinity. With large numbers of them here, stealing and petty thievery is likely to be more prevalent."

It was reported that if the public will immediately report beggars that Upland will be able to discourage the transients coming now and later in the fall.

Some Tenants Live In Apartments for Years, Others Move

Many a person has climbed the stairs of the building formerly known as the Silcox apartments, during the long years that temporary residents have found homes there.

Coming from here and there, and going—who knows where? That's an apartment house.

The apartments at 279 Second avenune, known to many as the Silcox apartments, for the past seven years have been successfully operated by Mrs. J. T. Salisbury.

On the second floor of the building, the group includes 11 apartments and an office suite. All are now occupied with the exception of one unfurnished apartment.

Modernly equipped and separated by two wide halls, the apartments contain three or four rooms each.

Somewhat unique in the history of apartments is the record made by Mrs. Salisbury is keeping several of the present occupants for three or four years.

It so happens that practically all the occupants at present are working people, several of them being employed in the local cit-

Securities owned by the city as a reserve fund total $18,875.

Traffic arrests during the month totaled 127 and 14 other arrests were made by the Upland police department during June, the city council was advised last night.

Speeders accounted for 55 arrests and failure to observe boulevard stops was the charge in 45 arrests.

Seven fire alarms were answered by the Upland fire department during June, according to the monthly report.

Annual report of the Upland public library was presented to the city council by Librarian Mrs. F. H. Manker. Details of the report were published recently in The Upland News.

Mrs. Zenz and Mrs. Jacobs will motor to Stockton Saturday and may visit in other places after the convention closes. Dates of the regular conventions are Monday through Wednesday, Aug. 11.

8 NURSES LOSE WORK IN DEMAND FOR HIGHER PAY

New List of Special Nurses Being Compiled on Old Pay Basis

As the result of their requests for increased wages being denied and of their failure to accept continued employment at their regular pay, eight nurses in this district who serve as "special" nurses will not be called by physicians for future employment.

This situation is the result of an attempt by the special nurses to get a pay increase effective Aug. 9, Dr. A. A. Aita, superintendent of the San Antonio Community hospital, said.

"In deciding on the matter the physicans in this district are taking into consideration what the average patient can afford to pay," Dr. Aita said. "Under the prevailing circumstances in the community we do not believe it is sensible to approve an increase in pay for the special nurses."

Names of 25 nurses who have qualified by training and experience as special nurses have been on the special nurses register at the hospital. After the physicians' staff at the hospital voted to deny the pay increase, the special nurses were advised to re-register if they wanted to continue to work on the regular pay schedule. Dr. Aita said that most of the 25 had re-registered or would by Monday. He knew, however, of eight who would not.

Additional special nurses have been selected and the list will be brought up to the 25 total by Monday.

"We never allow anyone to qualify for special nursing duty until their record has been closely investigated," the official explained. "'Floaters' are never employed. The list we have obtained include women who are well qualified and the special nursing service will be just as dependable and efficient in the future as in the past."

Special nurses, who are paid directly by the patients, have been working 12 hours for $6.

A statement was recently posted on the hospital bulletin board by the special nurses setting up a new pay scale. They asked for $5 for eight hours; $6.25 for 10 hours and $7.50 for 12 hours. Aug. 9 was given as the date for the new pay scale going into effect.

It is understood the action was taken by the special nurses without having first consulted the hospital physicians.

At a staff meeting the new pay schedule was discussed. It was decided impractical at this time and it was voted to call for a new registration of special nurses at the established rate.

The controversy does not affect the regular nurses at the hospital. They are paid by the hospital. The special nurses, however, are employed and paid for directly by the patients. When a physician deems it advisable for patients to have special nursing attention, he so advises the patient. If the employment is authorized, a nurse is selected from the special nurses list.

Sodium Vapor Arc Light on Trial Here

As an experiment the city of Upland has placed a sodium vapor light at Foothill boulevard and Euclid avenue.

While the councilmen at their meeting last night commended the type of light given they frowned upon the cost of $124.66.

If the light proves popular and satisfactory, the city may consider adding the same type of lights at other major intersections here.

Realtor Directors Will Hear Grier in Address at Banquet

Local real estate dealers will be interested in the two-day session of the directors of the California Real Estate association now in session at Lake Arrowhead.

C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, will be the speaker at the directors' banquet in the hotel tonight.

156 NEWCOMERS IN CITY DURING YEAR CHAMBER REPORTS

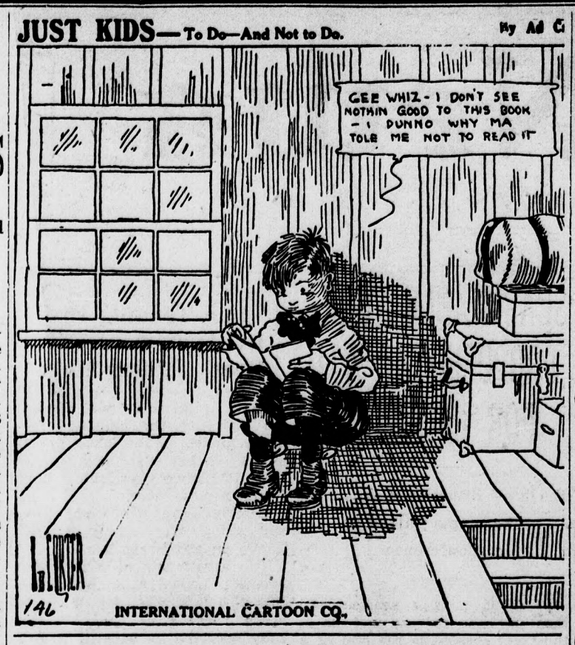

Many Locate in Upland and Become Permanent Residents

One hundred and fifty-six newcomers have been recorded at the Upland chamber of commerce office since Sept. 1, 1936, according to Mrs. Adelaide H. Plum, assistant secretary. Of this number 36 families have moved away. Most of those moving away had come here in connection with the construction of the Metropolitan Water District aqueduct through here.

Whenever there are any changes of address among residents, the chamber of commerce gets a report of the change. In this manner a record is kept of the newcomers. The chamber secretary calls on each newcomer, extending a welcome to the community.

Included among the newcomers are several members of the Chaffey faculty. Several new Uplanders have purchased residences here while other newcomers lived in Upland only a short time, moving from here to Alta Loma or Cucamonga.

The chamber office has had many calls recently relative to the addresses of local residents. It so happened that several of the inquiries concerned people who had moved here within recent months. As the result of the list of names being recorded, the chamber was able to provide the information.

HERE'S WHY FIRESTONE ALWAYS GIVES YOU SO MUCH
More for Your Money

FROM the day of its introduction, the Firestone Standard Tire has more than lived up to its name by setting a new high standard of tire values. Hundreds of thousands of car owners have already bought it because they saw in it more value for their money.

"How does Firestone do it? How can they build so many extra value features into Firestone Standard Tires and yet sell them at such low prices?" The answer is simple—Firestone controls better-quality rubber and cotton supplies at their source, keeps manufacturing costs low by efficient factory methods and sells in such huge volume that distribution costs are held to a minimum.

Make no mistake about this! The Firestone Standard Tire gives you the blowout protection of Firestone's patented Gum-Dipping process. Its scientifically designed tread gives greater non-skid protection and longer wear. And those two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread guard against punctures.

Before you buy ANY tire at ANY price, see today's top tire value—the Firestone Standard Tire. Don't risk your life with thin, worn tires on your Fourth of July trip. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires.

Miss Clewett Honored At Bridal Shower At Davis Home

The Misses Belle and Dorothy Davis of 267 West Ninth street were hostesses Tuesday evening at a merry party and gift shower held as a pre-wedding courtesy for Miss Alice Mae Clewett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clewett of West Arrow highway.

Miss Clewett is the fiancee of Elmer Chilcott of Pomona and the announcement of their engagement was made several months ago. The wedding will occur early in September.

Monopoly provided diversion for a time, with prizes being awarded to Miss Peggy Grahame and Miss Evelyn Clewett.

The real prize of the evening went to the prospective bride, who was presented with a collection of beautiful bridal gifts that filled a large basket, and a pleasant time was spent in displaying the many articles.

Late in the evening the hostesses served tempting refreshments. A color motif of green and white was utilized in all the decorations and table appointments.

Those having an opportunity to share in the pleasures of the evening were Miss Alice Clewett, and her mother and sister, Mrs. W. C. Clewett and Miss Evelyn Clewett; the Misses Mary Moore, Billie Harris, Evelyn Hendy, Peggy Grahame, Emma Paulin, Betty Larkin, Donna Murkins, Jean Mehl, Beverly Houses, Evelyn Foote, and Mrs. Paul Clewett (the former Miss Marjorie Jackson, all of Upland; Misses Betty Gage, Florence Dorning, Helen Davis and Adele Burton of Ontario; Misses Virginia Garello and Louise Thomas of Cucamonga; the hostesses, the Misses Belle and Dorothy Davis and their mother and sister, Mrs. A. The meeting will be an all day event with the members being guests of Mrs. Earl C. Thomas at her beach cottage, 123 Bay avenue, Balboa. A contributed dish luncheon will be served at noon.

Business Women Meet For Varied Program And Dinner

The cool, secluded patio of the Upland Woman's club house, provided a delightful place for the dinner meeting of the Upland Business and Professional Women's club Wednesday evening and the session was replete with so many interesting and varied features that there was not a dull moment throughout the evening.

The dinner tables were brightened with many gaily colored zinnias and an appropriate summer menu was served.

With Mrs. Ernest Tweed Stone, the president, presiding, the meeting was opened with community singing, Miss Maxine Keller at the piano.

Resulting in a number of cleverly told travelogues, Mrs. Stone conducted an impromptu vacation symposium, calling upon the club women to tell where they had been or are going during their vacations.

Several told of short and very pleasant trips to mountains and beaches and a number of others related their experiences on longer tours.

The last one called upon was Mrs. Romildo Revello (Madelena Campanella), who told of her recent trip, but without referring to the fact that it was her honeymoon trip. A clever explanation was offered at the request of Mrs. Stone, when Miss Keller at the piano played a wedding march. Mrs. Vivian Santolucito then presented a lovely gift to Mrs. Revello in behalf of the club.

Following the short routine business session, several committee chairmen made reports.

Miss Rose Sanchez, financial chairman, told of arrangements being made for the club to handle the sale of family tickets to the Los Angeles county fair at Pomona, the tickets being sold at reduced prices prior to the opening of the fair.

Mrs. Robert I. Hodgin, magazine chairman, told of the club publication. Mrs. Ellery F. Wright, program chairman, outlined plans for the next club meeting, when Mrs. Wm. B. Hutton, research chairman, will be in charge, and Miss Keller, music chairman, told of plans for the music section. A short period is to be set aside at each meeting for the study of some famous composer, his biography being given and some of his compositions played.

Mrs. Maud M. Linsley, membership chairman, announced two new members, Mrs. James C. McCoy and Mrs. Marvin Francisco, Mrs. McCoy being present to receive her welcome into the club.

Comprehensive reports of the interesting summer conference at San Diego were given by Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Harry Plum.

Presented by Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Lottie Fuller, club health and welfare chairman, gave a particularly interesting craft talk. As city and Red Cross nurse, Mrs. Fuller is continually encountering new and interesting experiences and many of these she related to the club women.

At the conclusion of her address, the club by vote approved a motion to present Mrs. Fuller with an expression of recognition and appreciation of the valuable work she does, and also to commend the city officials for retaining her in her present position.

The meeting was concluded with the singing of "The Golden Key," the song dedicated by Carrie Jacobs Bond to the Business and Professional Women's Federation.

Committee arranging for the meeting included Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Maud M. Linsley and Mrs. Ellery F. Wright.

Upon invitation of Mrs. Otis H. Cooper, the board meeting will be held at her home, 120 South San Antonio avenue, Ontario, in the evening of Wednesday, Aug. 18, beginning at 7:30. All members of the club are invited to attend.

Committee chairmen appointments made by the president and approved by the board of directors include Mrs. Ellery F. Wright, program; Mrs. Maud M. Linsley, membership; Miss Rose Sanchez, finance; Mrs. Una R. Winter, parliamentarian; Miss Martha Schelske, public relations and legislation; Mrs. Vivian M. Wonders of a Letter

A little time and a postage stamp can do wonders. Well up in years are a father and mother in Upland, who are living without gas and lights in their home, who eat sparingly and who exist, materially, from day to day.

Their one big happiness is getting letters from their children throughout the country. Old age has left them almost penniless but when we happened to stop at their place the other day, the wife and mother was very cheerful. The mail man had just left a letter from a son.

We believe if that son and his brothers and sisters knew what letters mean to those parents thy would write very often.

Model House Is Open For Inspection

RED HILL SCENE OF ALL-ELECTRIC MODEL BUILDING

M. A. Niswander's Structure Open for Inspection For Month

Expected to draw the presence of hundreds of persons is the new all-electric demonstration home on Red Hill. It will be opened for public inspection beginning at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. It will remain open for a month.

During that time the general public is invited by the builder and owner, M. A. Niswander, to view the modernly planned and classic appearing residence.

Equipped with an all-electric kitchen, with an air conditioning system, and furnished just as a resident would like to have his ideal home, the new building is looked upon as an outstanding attraction in the community.

It is all the more unique in that it is the first time in many years this community has had a "model" home open for the closest possible inspection.

The building provides the most in home comforts. Its beautifully finished kitchen has many built-in shelves. The arrangement of the room is made to give the utmost in convenience. Above all, from the standpoint of many, is the fact that the kitchen is equipped exclusively with electrical appliances. Kelvinator electric range and Kelvinator electrical regrigerator and an electric water heater were install through J. H. Siegrist.

These electrical fixtures are built in as part of the kitchen. The cozy, convenient arrangement enhances the general attractivness of this important part of the house.

Opening off one side of the kitchen is the service porch. Another door also leads into the large hall. This hall leads down to the three cozily finished, attractively decorated and large bedrooms. Each room is finished in a different color and the Klimes Furniture Co. has placed furnishings in each room that blends ideally with each color scheme.

Opening off the kitchen at the south in the dinette.

Perhaps one of the outstanding features of the home is the large, well furnishd and beautifully finished living room. A fireplace is in the center of the outer wall and the soft cream colored walls blend beautifully with the entire atmosphere of the new house.

Whoever lives in the dwelling will probably look upon the patio as a very popular part of the home site. The house is "U" shaped with the patio being reached through French doors from either the living room or the hall.

Forming the south part of the "U" are the dinette and the living room. The kitchen, hall and closets are in the center with the bedrooms making the northern part of the "U". The garage adjoins the house on the eastern end of the bedroom wing.

Charles Peeler, of the Upland Electric Co., furnished the electrical fixtures and handled all electrical wiring. The Upland Sheet Metal Works was in charge of all sheet metal work, while Frank Gingerich, local plastering contractor, was in charge of the plastering. Lutz & Bane firm was the plumbers in handling all installations. Lumber and other building materials were furnished by the S. M. Hoyt Lumber Co.

M. A. Niswander, local contractor, is the owner and builder. He built the property as an investment.

251 Veterans Buy Property in County With Aid of Board

State veterans' welfare board has aided 251 veterans to buy either homes or farms in this county. Value of the veterans' property is $1,129,057.

Nearly 17,000 veterans in the state have selected farms and homes under the veterans' purchase act.

Auditorium in San Bernardino to Cost $221,491, Estimate

Cost of a 585-seating capacity auditorium for the San Bernardino Valley junior college will be $221,491, it was revealed with the filing of a request for additional funds from the WPA.

The building was started more than a year ago and it is scheduled to be completed in the summer of 1938.

New Law Requires Lower Light Beams For Night Passing

A new state law, effective Aug. 27, requires that headlight beams be depressed when approaching within 500 feet of an oncoming vehicle at night.

And if you fail to obey the vital regulations when driving on city thoroughfares or open road, it is further observed, you may well anticipate the traffic patrolman's siren and his citation and resultant penalty.

While many motorists have adopted the practice of dipping or deflecting lights upon meeting other cars after dark as a matter of "Golden Rule" courtesy, the legislature this year made it mandatory if the car is so equipped.

Until Aug. 27 use of passing or lower beams remains voluntary, but autoists are urged to acquire the habit in preparation for the closely approaching time when failure to dip lights will be a law violation.

Services Held for Joel Gillingwators

Funeral services for Joel Gillingwators were held Wednesday afternoon in the Upland Methodist church, a large number of friends being present. The front part of the church was virtually filled with flowers, so numerous were the floral expressions.

Mrs. Fannie Gay played selections on the pipe organ and Dr. Irvin A. Engle, former pastor of the church, conducted an impressive memorial service. The pall bearers included D. J. Cameron, W. F. Naftel, E. A. Dart, W. H. Scholten and John Engle. Stone Funeral home was in charge of the arrangements.

Mr. Gillingwators died in a tractor accident and fire Monday at the home of his son, I. Wilson Gillingwators, West Foothill bouevard.

IT HAS EVERYTHING

Every feature of the home is in keeping with the latest developments in the home construction field. And of course the home is all-electric, for the all-electric home has set a new standard of modernity.

This all-electric home is everything that is desired in comfort and livability. It has a year-around air conditioning system, which electrically cools or electrically heats the air as necessary to maintain a pleasant temperature.

DEPENDABLE TRIO

The kitchen is all-electric, with an electric range, electric refrigerator and electric water heater as a dependable trio of every-day servants.

With all these advantages, it's fine that an all-electric home is also economical. Day-by-day operation is thrifty, due to the reduced electrical rate enjoyed when electrical service is used exclusively. This electrical economy places an all-electric home within the means of every income—makes it possible for every family to share the pleasure of living in a home that is electrically appointed throughout.

Sponsors of this model home cordially invite you to visit it during the period it is open for inspection.

BUILDING SPURT ON RED HILL IS ANTICIPATED NOW

13 Houses in Tract with Plans Being Made for Five More Dwellings

Opening of the M. A. Niswander home for public inspection is expected to further stimulate interest in building of houses on Red Hill.

Thirteen houses are on Red Hill at present. Another one is being erected and according to H. F. Naisbitt, subdivider and owner, at least five more new houses are in the course of planning. More than 100 lots have been sold since the subdivision was opened about six years ago. Majority of the lot owners plan to build in the near future.

Due to the attractive hill-top location of the property, its accessibility to the Red Hill Country club, the panoramic view that is available and for other reasons, the property is likely to be the center of increased building activity.

Following are the names of those owning houses on Red Hill at present: Leonard A. Smith, of the Pioneer Vineyard association; Martin Derfer, retired business man and citrus grower; S. G. Topliff, citrus rancher; E. G. Luke, foreman for Upland Heights Citrus association; A. B. Van Fleet, distributor for Signal Oil Co.; B. Castellini, retired resident; William E. Hicks, insurance broker; Harland G. Horak, Bank of America employe; M. A. Niswander, contractor; Paul Adams, manager Alta Loma Citrus association; Harry V. Cavers, deputy horticultural inspector; Ancil Morris, Cucamonga business man; Dan Millikan, proprietor of Claremont nursery, and J. H. Sanborn, Pomona contractor.

The air conditioning unit in the M. A. Niswander home on Red Hill is reported to be the latest type and scheduled to be outstandingy popular.

The equipment is located in the basement with vents leading to all parts of the house.

Eugene Hogan Talks To Mother in Texas

Eugene "Pete" Hogan's mother in Nacodaches, Texas, heard the voice of her Upand son over long distance telephone Wednesday night.

Mr. Hogan had to work at his shop at night and whie he was working he began to think of his mother. So he paused long enough to get a long-distance connection.

"Her voice sounded just like she was only a few miles away," he said. "They have had rains recently and the crops are the best in years," he said in quoting his mother, Mrs. Emma Hogan. She will arrive in Upland about Sept. 15 for an indefinite stay.

Welfare Building Is Opened For Use

To handle increased business and to provide suitable quarters for its 35 employes, the new county welfare department building was opened yesterday in San Bernardino. It is directly east of the court house and occupies part of a tract of land purchased last year by the county for the structure.

The building cost $53,000. It was erected as a WPA project.

"And what is the child's name?" asked the minister.

Naisbitt Enthused Over House Opening

Depression, discouragement and uncertainty did not discourage H. F. Naisbitt, real estate agent and the moving spirit back of the development on Red Hill.

In the opening of the model demonstration house in the tract, Mr. Naisbitt sees realized one of his fondest hopes. For months he has been anticipating this event and for many years he has been working toward the time when there woud be many houses on the hill.

HEARING ON HUGE BUDEGT IS CALLED

County's Proposed Outlay Open for Inspection Of Property Owners

Public hearings on budgets is the current trend among tax levying bodies and today announcement is made that the county supervisors will hold a session at 2 o'clock Aug. 16 especially for the purpose of hearing any interested property owners.

The proposed county budget is $3,504,187, an increase of $704,897 over the $2,799,289 budget for the 1936-37 fiscal year. Of the total budget, approximately $2,500,000 will go to pay for relief projects and for old age pensions.

The new salary schedule is higher. About $50,000 will go as increased salary to regular county employes and about $50,000 to new employes being added in the welfare department to administer the relief details.

A special tax levy of 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation will also be levied to finance the county's share of flood control and water conservation.

C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, has invited all interested persons to attend the budget hearing and to make suggestions relative to the proposed expenditures.

The charming wife of a French diplomat who had never thoroughly mastered the English language, was urging an American officer to attend a dinner, the invitation to which he had already declined.

The lady insisted that he must go, but the young officer said that he had "burned his bridges behind him."

"That will be all right," she explained, "I'll lend you a pair of my husband's."

Presbyterian Women Hear Talk on China At Meeting Thursday

An interesting account of a brief visit she made in China several years ago while on her way to India, was given Thursday by Mrs. George Skinner of San Bernardino, who spoke at the meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary society held in the church.

Mrs. Skinner, who is a sister of Mrs. Nellie Hoffman of First avenue, spoke informally and told of the things she learned about the missions in China and gave many sidelights not usually included in a regular missionary address.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. K. W. Fuller, president, and Mrs. D. H. Ward led the devotional service. She also held a brief memorial service for the late Mrs. Ernest L. McCartney.

During the business session there was some discussion of plans for participating in the nation wide centennial meeting to be held during October by all societies in celebration of the completion of 100 years of foreign missionary work. Mrs. William Trunkfield is to be in charge of the local meeting.

Pertinent Comment On Current Affairs From Californians

Mrs. P. D. Bevil, Asst. Secy. Calif. State Safety Comm. — "In California, drivers' licenses are much too easy to get—as easy as marriage or dog licenses. Worse—they're much harder to lose."

Gordon L. McDonough, L. A. Co. Supervisor—"Relief costs are $10,000,000 higher than last year. If relief is to be maintained in L. A., it may be necessary to raise the tax."

Dean Jennings, Mgr. pirate "theme" girls publicizing Golden Gate Exposition — —"The stunt of dressing a girl in deep-sea diving outfit and having her walk across the bay floor from Ferry building to fair site is no good. Her legs wouldn't show!"

Clearance Sales Begin Tomorrow

UPLAND CONCERNS FEATURE BARGAINS IN ANNUAL EVENT

Timely Merchandise Offered At Popular Prices by Local Stores

Clearance sales in Upland offer real opportunities for thrifty residents of Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Etiwanda.

Most of the stores in Upland are today announcing special sales to begin tomorrow.

It is a semi-annual event for the J. J. Atwood Co., Goodban's Brownbilt Shoe store and the Harnish Dry Goods Co. to conduct clearance sales during the summer. These sales mean savings. Through the years these stores and others have established a reputation for featuring outstanding reductions during the clearance sales. Offered as items during the sales are popular merchandise that can be purchased at reduced prices.

In addition to the three stores already named, special sales are being conducted by the Caveness Style shop and J. E. Engle. With all of these sales at the same time, emphasis is placed on the fact that residents in the Upland trading territory can find the items they want and need at competitive prices.

Upland stores in general are very alert to offer timely items at popular prices. Clothing stores, food concerns, household appliance stores, and others make up an aggressive group of merchants in providing patrons with all lines of popular merchandise.

The News Going to Everyone Today as Messenger of Sales

Copies of The Upland News are being delivered today to every home in the Upland trading territory.

This is being done through the cooperation of the local stores and The News. To some, today's issue will be a sample copy while to many in Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Etiwanda, it will be a regular welcome visitor.

As the result of the complete coverage given by The News, the number of regular subscribers is steadily increasing. In Upland and in the outlying communities, many people are ordering The News. These people want not only the complete reports of local events, but they also want to read the advertising from local merchants.

Cost of The News is only $2 per year, $1 for six months—less than 17 cents a month.

Public Utilities In County Taxed At $38,215,940

In San Bernardino county public utility property is valued at $38,215,40 for assessment purposes for the 1937-38 year. This is an increase of $3,150,990 over last year's figure.

Personal and real property is assessed by the county assessor's office and public utilities are appraised by the state board of equalization.

CHAFFEY BUDGETS FOR YEAR TOTALING $524,444 ADOPTED

Increase of $40,723 Will Go For New Buildings, More Teachers, Reserve

Sum of $524,444 has been allotted by the Chaffey board of education for operation of Chaffey high school and junior college during the next school year. This is an increase of $40,723 over the 1936-37 outlay.

"Glancing at the budgets and noting that the totals are slightly higher this year than last, one might question for a moment the economy predicted," President N. E. Trautman said in a prepared statement. The budgets were officially adopted at the board meeting Tuesday night.

"There are only three places where any considerable increases may be noted—junior college instruction, high school capital outlay and general reserves in both institutions."

It was explained that the sum for reserves was levied at the suggestion of the county superintendent of instruction in compliance with regulations which require that a 10 per cent balance be maintained with which to meet bills accruing between July 1 and the collection of taxes in December.

Amount set aside for capital outlay, $81,750, will go toward completion of the campus building program. With expenditure of this sum the campus and the branch high school at Fontana are scheduled to get government aid in erection of equipment and improvements valued at $270,000.

"Citizens of the Chaffey district have always demanded the best of instructors and are continuing to do so," Mr. Trautman said. "But instructors are now costing more. In order to keep its best teachers and to attract new ones of the same high quality, the board is now finding it necessary to increase the salaries of some and to bring in several new men and women.

"During the year the high school has had an increase in average daily attendance of 116.This would call for four new teachers. Here again, the board, wishing to cut costs to the minimum, has added but two and a half. To meet the increasing demands of the college and to make the institution of greater use to those not regularly enrolled, two new men have been added to the faculty."

OIL STORAGE IS BEING INCREASED

Growers and Service Co. Looks To Supply When Heavy Firing Necessary

Citrus growers apparently believe in insurance. So today many of them are erecting private oil storage tanks and work is progressing in construction of a million-gallon storage tank for the Orchard Protection Co.

It is insurance against a shortage in heater oil that concerns growers. In placing the private tanks and the million-gallon tank, growers are thinking back a few months when it would have been very profitable to have had more oil on hand.

At the suggestion of those in touch with the citrus situation, growers throughout the Upland district and in Alta Loma and Cucamonga are installing tanks. Many of the tanks have been of the 10,000 and 20,000-gallon capacity. Most of these tanks, it is believed, will be filled with heater oil now. This fuel will be used only when all other sources of supply have been exhausted. The additional supply will be one of the last recourses used when another severe winter is experienced.

The million-gallon tank will bring to three million the total oil storage capacity of the company. The tank's foundation has been placed on Fourteenth street near Benson avenue. Preparations are being made for actual placing of the tank within a short time.

Sheppard to Appoint Three Boys to Naval, Military Academies

Congressman Harry R. Sheppard of this district announces that he has been authorized to appoint two boys to the United States Military Academy in 1938 and one to the Naval Academy.

"Any boy in the 19th District is entitled to an opportunity to compete for these appointments," stated Mr. Sehpprad. "I have contacted the United States Civil Service Commission and they have agreed to give a competitive examination on Nov. 6 of this year for all boys in my district who wish to compete," he added. "The boys receiving the highest grades will receive the appointments regardless of political affiliation, race or creed."

Mr. Sheppard stated that any boy wishing to compete for these appointments must file their request with his office before Sept. 15, 1937. All candidates are required to be citizens of the United States and must be not less than 16 years of age nor more than 20 years of age by April 1, 1938, for the Naval Academy, nor less than 17 years or more than 22 years by April 1, 1938, for the Military Academy. Candidates cannot be less than 5 feet 4 inches in height.

SPRAY MEN READY TO START ANNUAL DRIVE ON PESTS

Upland and Alta Loma Concerns Will Conduct Extensive Work

One of the greatest battles in the citrus district is today about ready to start. Spraying and fumigating crews will launch an attack on a huge scale.

Citrus growers in Upland last year paid $198,988 to wage the war aginst pests during 1936 and indications point to an outlay almost as large for 1937.

The summer and fall campaign to be conducted by the Cooperative Fumigation & Supply Co. will employ about 75 men. In the Alta Loma-Cucamonga district the Growers Service Co. will employ about 35 persons. Robert Nesbit, manager of the Growers Supply Co. said that spray crews started today and that fumigators would be on the job next week.

Ralph Moon, manager of the Cooperative concern here, reported that his crews would be in the groves about August 15. While the spray men will operate about three months, the fumigators will be busy from now until next spring.

The scales are the most expensive pests to control.

During last year a total of 994,507 trees were treated.

Chaffey Income Aid In Reducing Direct Cost to Taxpayers

Aviation clases at Chaffey junior college will be conducted this year without any direct cost to local taxpayers.

Sum of $4000 will be given the institution by the state and federal governments as a grant. This amount together with money collected from the state by way of average daily attendance and with equipment received from the army and navy will provide for all operating costs.

Money received by Chaffey from the state on the basis of attendance at evening classes and the public forums makes a profit to the district. Tuition paid by students attending Chaffey from outside districts has more than equalled all that has been spent by the junior college for buildings.

What Should One Write About

We wonder if people know how a fellow feels about his job who writes "stuff" for an (so-called) editorial column—or any other kind of a column. For this News Guy it's a problem to dig up something to write about that we think will interest readers—and then we're seldom—if ever—satisfied with the way it is written. Naturally—one wonders what per cent of the subscribers to a paper read what he writes. Sometimes a reader gives the writer "Hail Columbia" for something he does not like—and occasionally he is complimented for something he has written. However, these comments are not very numerous.

Perhaps a writer is in somewhat the same position as a wife whose husband does not make any comments on her cooking. Most husbands give their "better half" to understand that when they do not kick on her cooking they are satisfied with it—but we do not feel so optimistic about what we "dish up" to our readers—if any. Homer King, who writes a really outstanding column in the Hemet News each week, apparently has the same misgivings about what he produces as do most of the rest of us. He tells about it in the following manner:

"Honestly, this column is just about as much of a bore to us as to our readers. We are in about the same position as a preacher. Whether a preacher has anything to say or not, he must preach 90 to 100 sermons every year. We sympathize with the preachers. We know just how it is. His sermons are not as a rule the results of his own spiritual or intellectual experiences, but the gleanings of his readings highly influenced by the particular text of systematic theology which he studied in the seminary.

"Chiefly his sermons are either a defense of dogmas which he is expected to defend, or they are a collection of very pretty but, for the most part, meaningless essays on topics in which the people have no real interest, but against which there can be no charge of heresy.

"The preacher must preach something. His salary depends on it, and should he rise in his pulpit and frankly declare that on that particular Sunday morning he had nothing to say, his official board would begin to reason among themselves as to the advisability of securing a new pastor, especially since, in all probability, such an honest man would already have made enough enemies to furnish adequate cause for his removal.

"The writer of a column like this is in the same boat with the preachers, even though the gentlemen of the cloth may not appreciate our society.

"We have to be careful what we say. If we say what we think we are certain to get in bad somewhere. No matter how careful we are to write things that don't mean anything and at which no one can take offense, we are continually getting off on the wrong foot. One week we find we have incurred the disapproval of the Republicans, the next week the chamber of commerce and the next week the garbage collectors' union.

"At an early date we shall make a determined attempt to give our readers this column in such a way that no offense can be taken. We shall reprint the Sermon on the Mount in Japanese."

An editor or writer is in much the same position as most others who are in business in that he does his best to please. However, he is expected to express his opinion and take a stand on most questions that come up—and it is impossible to please everybody, for as it is said, "There are two sides to every question." If he expects everybody to like everything he writes he is more optimistic than wise. If he gets as many bouquets as brickbrats thrown at him he should be happy.

Sheppard Favors Referendum Bill

Congressman Harry R. Sheppard of this district signed the petition to bring the Ludlow war referendum bill to the floor of the House of Representatives in Washington for debate and vote. This bill proposes an amendment to the national Constitution that provides—except in the event of an invasion of the United States or its territorial possessions—that declaration of war shall not become effective until confirmed by a majority of all votes cast in a national referendum. "I am not a pacifist," stated Mr. Sheppard. "I believe in adequate national defense. I also believe that the people of this Democracy, and not a small minority, should determine whether or not this nation should enter any foreign conflict. If this bill had been a law in 1917 we may not have sacrificed and crippled the thousands of men which our entrance into the World war led by a minority cost us"

We believe it is right and proper that the people should have an opportunity to decide such matters as the above—but we doubt if their decision would have been different than the "small minority" who made the decision in 1917. Previous to the declaration of war the people of this nation had been worked up to such a pitch by propaganda that they were not only ready—but anxious—to get into that terrible catastrophe. At that time if there were any who opposed going into the war against Germany they were afraid to say so, so terrible had atrocities against Americans in the war zone been pictured. The writer was "called on the carpet" during those feverish days because we did not come out in our newspaper and advocate entry of the United States into the war—we were accused of being a German sympathizer. Public sentiment had been so influenced that war appeared to be what a vast majority of the people wanted—and they got it.

Now—not so many years after—they realize what a terrible mistake it was. Perhaps a law against lying propagandists would be a great thing in this country.

Although some learned professor has recently characterized "the stork myth" as an outrageous and scandalous bit of medieval mummery that old bird—the stork—is still on the job. According to the California Department of Public Health the stork special in this state came roaring in with 84,460 new arrivals during 1936—a five per cent increase over 1935. Los Angeles county, of course, led the list—but Alpine county reported none.

"Pop" Warner, famous coach, has the right idea about things. He says: "I take the wins and losses more philosophically than I used to. I like to win, but if my team loses I can still sleep."

Strange what a good time some people seem to have running around spending money they owe someone else.

Keeping Up

By Vernon Paine

Local Taxes Are First

People wail about the huge federal government debt. Concern is shown over California's indebtedness. What local people say or think, however, has little effect on state and national expenditures. Furthermore, those obligations are far from us. We will pay our share, of course, eventually in indirect taxes.

Facing us directly are the local taxes. What local people say and think can have a very important effect on local tax-spending agencies. Our biggest tax bills come from the city, school districts and the county. Tax-minded people can really do things if they seriously and thoughtfully study what is being spent right here in our own city, our school districts and our county.

Tracks on Euclid Avenue

Opinion is divided in Upland as to the necessity of the spur freight tracks being maintained on Euclid avenue south to Stowell street.

Some of those in touch with the situation suggest that it is possible for the Pacific Electric and the Santa Fe to join in a working agreement permitting abandonment of those tracks without impairing the freight service. Others, however, say abandonment of those tracks is not feasible.

In any event, maintenance of the tracks on this district's beautiful avenue mars the appearance of the thoroughfare.

Ralph Swing as Equalizer

Ralph Swing may be appointed as a member of the state board of equalization. The veteran state senator from this county is being boosted by friends for the selection when a new district is created. San Bernardino county and Riverside county and one other county will form a new district.

Mr. Swing has been in the limelight for years as a leader in the state senate.

Tragedy in a Community

Perhaps nothing binds a community together as does a tragedy that comes to a well respected family.

Every time we saw Joel Gillingwators he was either working or at church. Not that he worked all the time or attended church at every opportunity, yet he was generally known as a hard working citrus rancher and was highly regarded by a large circle of friends.

SALE OF EUCLID PROPERTY CLOSES SITE TO BUSINESS

Avenue Frontage of Tract Will Be Used As Home Sites, Report

Possibility of no business ever being established at the southeast corner of Euclid avenue and Foothill boulevard is seen by many in the recent sale of property at that location.

Agents for the Ohio National Life Insurance Co., new owners of the 19-acre tract at Foothill and Euclid, are reported to have given the assurance that the property will be used only for residential purposes. An eventual subdivision of the citrus property into lots is contemplated.

Philip B. White, one of the former owners who sold the tract for $76,000, said the insurance company representative expressed an eagerness to conform with wishes of the local people in protecting Euclid avenue as a residential artery. Mr. White, who at one time had a tenant for the corner, never pushed the matter to open up the site for business. A public hearing was held on the matter. Objections were voiced by local property owners. Following that hearing no steps were taken by Mr. White to force the issue.

Concerning the tract extending from Eleventh street to Foothill and from Euclid to Second avenue, the new owners are expected to develop the property. Extension of First avenue through the tract to Foothill has been considered. A street may also be placed midway betwen Eleventh and Foothill extending from Euclid to Second.

While there is no immediate prospect of this property being developed as a subdivision, much interest is being shown in the plans for the tract. Much demand is expected when the property is eventually offered as home sites.

Mr. White and Hale P. Powers are the former owners of the tract.

The musicians, secured by R .H. Richesin, were Miss Lillian Courtright, pianist, and her brother, Paul Courtright, guitar player and vocalist. Miss Courtright entertained with two piano numbers and joined her brother in a duet and Paul contributed three popular selections, singing to his own guitar accompaniment, each receiving hearty applause.

The speaker was presented by Mrs. Daniel and throughout his able address he held the close attention of his audience..

WINDBREAKS WILL CHANGE VIEW HERE WITHIN 10 YEARS

Thousands of Trees Will Be Set Out in Program to Check Wind

Within 10 years, thousands of windbreak trees will be tall enough to check the velocity of the wind, to prevent soil erosion and to change the view of the district from here to Fontana.

At least, that is the prediction today as tentative plans are being made to make a survey among property owners, who will be asked to give their cooperation. A wind erosion district is to be formed. When enough property owners agree to give the land for the rows of windbreak trees, the district will be formed and the actual work of setting out the trees will be started.

The United States department of agriculture will direct the work and members of the CCC camp on Arrow highway will do much of the actual work in setting out the trees.

Engineers have determined that the wind storms can be checked in the area east of Upland through a gigantic system of windbreak trees. Within a few years all the trees will have been set out, it is anticipated. After only a few years growth the trees will be large enough to check the wind.

At a meeting in Fontana recently plans were outlined for formation of the district, obtaining of property owners' pledge of cooperation and the actual setting out of the trees.

NYA Allots Money to Chaffey, Beulah College As Aid

School students in the Upland district shared in the $17,085.60 which was given to San Bernardino county schools during the last school year by the National Youth Administration.

Chaffey union high school and Beulah college students shared in the appropriation. It is expected the fund will be continued during the coming school year and that at least 50 students will receive the benefits.

Total of $28,544.85 was alloted to the fifth district of the national organization. This district includes San Bernardino, Riverside and Imperial counties.

More Patrolmen for County Duty Sought

More state highway patrolmen will be on duty in this county if Captain Frank Freeman's request is granted. He has asked for 10 more officers to help handle the traffic due to the big increase in travel to mountain resorts over the week end.

There are 19 officers on duty now. The county has the largest area of any county in the nation to be patrolled.

Work Is Started on Parker Canyon Walls

Swung from steel cables stretched across the high walls of Parker canyon, the first bucket of concrete was poured today in the construction of Parker dam.

Being constructed to divert water into the 392-mile Metropolitan aqueduct, Parker dam is located on the Colorado river 150 miles south of Boulder dam, and is being built under the direction of Frank Crowe, who was also general superintendent of the construction of Boulder dam.

Aircraft School Places Students

The Pomona branch of the Fletcher Aircraft School, located at A and Monte Vista, started a class of 15 students to work this week. Main plant of the school is at Santa Monica and they have trained and placed more than 800 men in major aircraft manufacturing companies in Southern California.

In this school students learn from actual experience by doing work they would be doing in a regular plant. Regulation equipment and trained instructors guide and explain each step in the work. A number of students are in training at the Pomona branch at all times and the time required to finish the course is from four to six weeks.
